May it please your Excellency,

I beg to forward a copy of the Catalogue of the publications of the Panini Office which aim at to conserve the ancient learning of India. These publications have been very highly appreciated by Sanskrit Scholars all over the world and a portion of the Ashtadhyaye of Panini has been prescribed as a text book in the M.A. examination of the University of London which is so far the only instance of an Indian author's work finding a place in the curriculum of studies of the highest examination of an European University.

To carry on our work efficiently the Governments of India, Madras Bengal, Bombay and several other Local Administrations have supplied this Office with their publications bearing on Indian Archaeology and Sanskrit learning. As the Mysore State has published
